What happens at the conference?

At the JUUN Dialogue Conference, you will work together with about 60 young people between 18 and 30 from different African Union Countries and from Austria.

Together, we will delve into pressing questions, including:

- Which inequalities are particularly concerning to young individuals in their day-to-day lives?
- Why and how is it essential for young people to collaborate across regions and borders to jointly address inequalities?
- What is the significance of ensuring youth representation in overcoming global inequalities, and how should youth participation in these efforts be structured?
- What specific expectations do young people have from political decision-makers in these contexts?

On the second day of the conference, you will have the chance to directly address decision-makers with your ideas, concerns, and demands.

How can I participate in the conference?

You can participate in the JUUN dialogue conference if you are between 18 and 30 years old, are interested in the project topics & in actively contributing, and are in Vienna on November 8th and 9th 2023.

All you need to do is APPLY HERE until October 15th.

Accommodation, travel costs within Austria, and food are covered by the organisers.
